THE QUESTIONNAIRE

In order to personalise your wedding ceremony I need a little bit more information about you, your partner and your unique romantic journey.

So... hmmmm... erm... ooof... where to start...? Gosh, suddenly it seems hard to put all those intense feelings and happy memories into words. Not to worry... below is a specially designed questionnaire to help you do just that!

Heads-up: most couples fill the questionnaire in separately, but some couples choose to fill it in together. Some couples answer all the questions; others, just a handful. Some write loads; some write very little. It's all good. It's not a school test.

Please note: it is very important that you feel comfortable with the type and amount of information you give me. That means you should feel free to answer as many (or as few) of the questions as briefly or expansively as you wish. Again, it's totally up to you! Here goes...

about you (as an individual)

Please give me a very short bio about just you.

:: :: ::

about you two (as a couple)

How, when and where did you and your fiancé(e) meet? Please include the date and place if possible.

What were your first impressions of them? Can you remember what you felt?

When and where was your first date? Please include when and where it was, if possible.

How did the date go?

When did you know that they were The One?

How did you get engaged? Please include the date and place if possible.

What are some of your happiest memories together?

What is the most romantic gesture your fiancé(e) has made for you?

Do you have nicknames for each other?

Name 5 things you love about your fiancé(e).

How do you describe your fiancé(é) to other people?

How would you describe your relationship?

Where are you going on honeymoon?

What are you most looking forward to about your life together?

What do you see when you think about your longer-term future together?

If you could live anywhere in the world together, where would it be and why?

If you could change one thing about your fiancé(e), what would it be?

And them about you?

Lastly, is there any other information you would like to share that my questions haven't squeezed out of you?
